Children's television exhibition opens at Portsmouth Museum

Discover the history of children's television in a major new exhibition at Portsmouth Museum. The Story of Children's Television from 1946 to Today is packed full of hands-on activities for children and the young at heart. It traces the development of children's television from the early days of one channel in black and white to the multi-channel, multi-platform world we live in today and brings together original props and characters, film clips, images, memorabilia and merchandise.

From Muffin the Mule to the Muppets, Play School to Pingu, Grange Hill to Gordon the Gopher, Teletubbies to Tweenies, Blue Peter to Mr Bloom's Nursery and Rastamouse to Rosie and Jim this exhibition has something for everyone.

Join us for a trip down memory lane and help us to celebrate the changing face of children's television.

Exhibition guide and trail available for download from mid-November via www.portsmouthcitymuseums.co.uk/portsmouth-museum/information-for-schools

The Story of Children's Television is on show at Portsmouth Museum from 17 October 2015 until 28 February 2016. Admission is free. Group visits must be booked in advance.

The exhibition has been created by the Herbert Art Gallery & Museum, Coventry in partnership with the Department of Film and Television Studies, University of Warwick. It is supported by the Heritage Lottery Fund, BBC, Ragdoll Productions, ITV, Kaleidoscope and the Children's Media Foundation.

Explore seaside holidays, leisure and entertainment at Portsmouth Museum

Winter may be approaching but the sun always shines in the Portsmouth at Play gallery in Portsmouth Museum.

- Follow the development of Southsea as a seaside resort.
- Try out the distorting mirror and working historic amusement machines including the iconic 'Laughing Sailor' from Clarence Pier.
- See bathing costumes from the past, photos, posters and memorabilia from local theatres, cinemas, coffee bars, ice cream parlours, pubs and parks including a Walls Ice Cream seller's box tricycle and an original booth from Verrecchia's, Portsmouth's most popular café from the 1930s to the 1960s.
- See photos and objects relating to sports and outdoor pursuits and marvel at the incredible racing bicycle from the 1880s.
- Watch archive film footage of seaside holidays, fairs, the circus and other leisure activities in the city.
- Bring your study of the British seaside up to date with a trip to the nearby seafront to sample the entertainment on offer for the 21st century holidaymaker.

Toys, games and pastimes workshop

This fun, hands on session enables children to investigate and play with a range of toys and games from the past including vehicles, moving toys and board games.

Taking on the role of Toy Detectives, children will explore materials, mechanisms, graphics and packaging to compare old and new and put the toys in chronological order.

Why not book a session to complement your visit to The Story of Children's Television or the historic room settings, Portsmouth at Play and Study in Sherlock galleries at Portsmouth Museum?

Observational bee hive up and running at Cumberland House

There's a buzz around Cumberland House Natural History Museum as visitors flock to see the new observational bee hive.

Up to 50,000 European Honey Bees live in a colony in the hive, producing honey combs and raising their young. They enter and leave via a short tunnel that connects the hive to the museum gardens and its bee-friendly plants. Visit the hive to learn about the life cycle of bees, the complex social structure of their colonies, how they communicate and why they are so important.

Admission is free. Group visits must be booked in advance.

Visit www.portsmouthnaturalhistory.co.uk to check out the museum's other displays including An A to Z of Natural History, rocks and fossils, the habitats of Portsmouth, the Butterfly House and Emily the dinosaur.

Wonderful Wonder Boxes

Have you discovered the new-look Museum Loans Collection?

Our fabulous Wonder Boxes are the perfect stimulus for creative work across the curriculum including art and design, science, literacy and history.

- Bring a little awe and wonder into your classroom with bird, mammal, amphibian and reptile specimens or skulls and skeletons.
- Bring the past to life with high quality model dinosaurs and original and replica artefacts illustrating life in Ancient Egypt.
- Download a catalogue at www.portsmouthcitymuseums.co.uk/portsmouth-museum/information-for-schools
- Look out for new Stone Age, Bronze Age and geology boxes in 2016.
